Tuesday, April 10, 2007

10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

- Learning Object Development and Use—Presented by Kay Chitwood of Fox Valley Technical College—MATC Room D425

Session Description: This day-long workshop is for potential new authors to learn how to design, develop, and submit content for Wise-Online technicians to create into learning objects which are shared worldwide. A multimedia instructional designer and Flash technician will be available to guide you through the process, answer your questions, give you ideas, and work with you to transform your ideas into effective learning objects. Participants need only bring their great ideas! If interested in participating, please e-mail Kay Chitwood at chitwood@fvtc.edu to register.

2 to 4 p.m.

- WIDS Made Easy—Presented by Susan Sharkey and Terri Johnson, WIDS—MATC Room D437

Session Description: If you haven't tried the WIDS Wizards, you may be working too hard on your curriculum! This hands-on workshop will show you how to make your curriculum tasks easier by using WIDS Wizards to quickly create syllabi, course outcome summaries, learning plans, and assessment tasks. You will also create instant reports and save them to MS Word in a matter of moments (not minutes)! Learn to access files on the WTCS CurriculumBank and run WIDS Analyzer reports. Receive a complimentary copy of the new, easy-to-use WIDS QuickStart Guide. Take the WIDS Wizards for a spin; we think you will like what you see!
