

You are invited to attend the. . .

Wisconsin Technical College System

Wednesday, March 26, 2008

9 a.m. to 4 p.m. – CHS Auditorium (Registration in the CHS Atrium at 8:30 a.m.)

Co-Sponsors: Northcentral Technical College and Midstate Technical College

Location: Northcentral Technical College, Wausau

Keynote: Wikis, Blogs, IMS, Facebook, and Group Fusion: Tools of Engagement to Enhance Teaching and Learning
Dean Pape, Assistant Professor of Communication at Ripon College

It is an amazing sight to behold when a student manages to carry on 5 IM conversations while typing up a paper, checking Facebook, and listening to an iPod—all at the same time. This keynote will address how students interact with multiple technologies and how we can invade their world and use these technologies for academic purposes. Wikipedia as an academic instrument to enhance critical thinking is just one example—imagine the possibilities!

Who Should Attend: Faculty and staff from the Wisconsin Technical College System who are interested in technology for teaching and learning

Registration Fee: $50 (approved session presenters may deduct $25 from the registration fee)
